

The Bullet

Non-Profit Organization
PAID
U.S. POSTAGE
Fredericksburg, Va. 22401
Permit No. 216
p. o. box. 1115, fredericksburg virginia

Page 53, Number 12

MARY WASHINGTON COLLEGE

January 29, 1980

Student Cites Possible Pottery Dangers

By JACKIE CONCIATORE

Recent student complaints regarding dangerous conditions in MWC's pottery classes have resulted in some positive action and some definite confusion.

Stephen Northcutt, an MWC geography major, has reported several unsafe procedures in pottery classes here. His first complaint dealt with students' exposure to dust. Northcutt explained that when students make clay they combine flour and water in a mixing machine. According to Northcutt, the resulting dust contains silicious material, which is harmful to the lungs.

Northcutt, a junior, also expressed concern over students' undue exposure to the toxic chemical barium carbonate. He stated that "at least two" of pottery professors, Terri Hara's glazes contain the chemical. Students use their hands to mix barium carbonate in its liquid state and also breathe its poisonous dust in dry state, claimed Northcutt.

Finally, Northcutt objected to the fact that Hara's kiln is sometimes left on, unattended. The kiln is a gas kiln, capable of emitting carbon monoxide, though this is not likely.

Reem Sole Nominee

Nominations for Junior class judicial representative were held last Wednesday, January 23. The sole nominee is Evelyn Reem. Voting will be Wednesday, January 30, from 5 until 6 P.M. in the Dome room. Judicial President Diane Lewis commented that "I don't think it shows very good class spirit that nobody would run... it's pathetic."

Northcutt has had Advanced Pottery with Hara; he also has worked at the Fredericksburg Pottery Shop; and he has taught the art at a recreation camp in Thurmont, Maryland, where he was "exposed to the craft."

Professor Hara, when confronted with these complaints, did agree to buy breathing apparatus for his students, if allotted the money by the administration. He does not, however, consider this dust nor the barium carbonate harmful to his students. He claims that neither he nor his colleagues have been physically damaged by breathing clay dust. "I have been around it for thirty years and have had no problem. The barium carbonate is toxic, but only if eaten or drunk can it be harmful," he continued; as long as students use common sense and wash their hands after mixing glazes, there is no problem."

George Gaudier, part-owner of Fredericksburg Pottery, agrees. "If a person ingested one gram of barium carbonate they would be in trouble... of course that is a lot to take in, no one would." But he also feels that "safety is of extreme consideration" and "it is a good practice to use facia masks and metal scoops (not the hands) around barium carbonate, as an absolute minimum." He mentioned that a kiln should not be left on unattended. "If a kiln goes out the kiln is supposed to go off, but it is conceivable that it could stay on and it may be pouring out natural gas." He feels that the kiln's location is poor. It is in an enclosed area that is "not well ventilated."

GSU Seeks Understanding through Gay Awareness Week

By MEG BELL

Gay Awareness Week will be held at MWC from January 27 to February 2 to promote campus awareness of the Gay Student Union through speakers, lectures and activities designed for campus participation.

Gay Awareness Week, originally a project for the club's entry into the Inter-Club Association, was organized by Lisa Langenbach and Alex Holsinger. Langenbach, president and co-founder of the Gay Student Union (now in its third year) said "only five out of the fifty-two clubs on campus" voted against the GSU's recognition as a club. Gay Awareness Week is, according to Holsinger, to help people "get rid of fears and be able to accept more; we are willing to help them do so." Langenbach said that the club is working to dispel "fears, myths, and bigotry. A lot of people are against homosexuals or gays because they don't think they know any, and really they do," she added.

Activities during the week are as follows: January 29, Monday, in ACL ballroom at 8 p.m., Langenbach and Holsinger will present a question and answer session about homosexuality; everyone is welcome to attend; on Tuesday, Daria Fjeld, president of the Campus Christian Community, will present "A Christian's View of Homosexuality"; in Lounge A of Anne Carter Lee Hall at 8 p.m.; on Wednesday, there will be an ABC news documentary special from 9 to 10 p.m.

called "Homosexuals," broadcast over ABC-TV Channel 6; Thursday, January 31, is "Gator Day"—all those in support of homosexuality should wear their Izod Lacoste clothes. (Langenbach hopes other campuses will pick this up as a tradition). Also on Thursday there will be a news update on ABC-TV on the week's activities. On Friday there will be a party for the Gay Student Union in Lounge B of Anne Carter Lee Hall; everyone is welcome. It will be the first Gay Student Union party on campus and will be held from 8 to 12 p.m.

Langenbach and Holsinger spoke jointly last semester to the Campus Christian Community on the subject of homosexuality. As she commented, "You name it, I have been asked it." She describes herself as "very open, very out" and has said "I feel free and confident that I can answer anything." Her library is well-stocked with gay magazines from across the country and one particular pamphlet, "Twenty Questions About Homosexuality," put out by the National Gay

Task Force (a publication supported by the Fund for Human Dignity) answers such questions as "Is homosexuality healthy?" "Are gay people easily identified?" and "Does society discriminate against gay people?"

Langenbach estimates that about 10% of Mary Washington's campus is gay, and that there is an approximately equal balance between the number of male and female gays on campus.

Both Holsinger and Langenbach have indicated their willingness to discuss homosexuality with "homophobes"—those who have an innate fear of homosexuality and are hostile towards gay people. Holsinger has opened up a line at the Hotline Service and it has been a successful outlet for those needing someone who is gay to talk to them.

Gay Awareness Week should be a success and it is open to the entire campus—not only to gays. It is to be a week of enlightenment and sharing for all those involved.

Law School Reports Backlog

next eight weeks. Staff have been greatly expanded and are working long hours to meet these problems. Educational Testing Service (ETS), which administers the LSDAS, regrets any personal inconvenience to candidates.

The LSDAS was begun in 1970 at the request of the law schools. Its purpose is to summarize information from college transcripts, test scores from the Law School Admission Test and other biographical information used for evaluation by the law school admissions offices.

If there are specific problems that cannot wait, please write to Law Programs, Newtown, Pennsylvania 18940. Please do not telephone.

Gene Outka, Associate Professor of Religious Studies at Yale University spoke Monday night in ACL Lounge A. His topic was "Self and Others: Issues on the Boundaries of Religion, Ethics, and Psychology."

Anti-War Group Registers Conscientious Objectors

By BETSY ROHALY

stration of individuals who are to military participation is made through a new program adopted by the Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors (CCCO).

John Spears, director of CCCO's Self and Conscientious Objection sign, says, "The need for young to go to record as a conscientious objector to war has never been that it is today."

According to Spears, "There is a real possibility that Congress will pass a bill, after the 1980 election, requiring the mandatory registration of young people with Selective Service."

Youth Americans should be thinking about whether they participate in the military."

According to President Carter's State

Administration last Wednesday

the prospect of mandatory registration seems inevitable. Carter that he will propose to Congress

bill that would require persons

the ages of 18 and 26 to register

the Selective Service. It has been decided as to whether will be required to register.

says that CCCO has already several thousand young

through its conscientious ob-jector card. These cards are available CCCO, P.O. Box 15796, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19103. They because of my beliefs about in opposition to participation in

Anti-War Group Registers

Conscientious Objectors

CCCO are a very organized

they know a statement made time would carry a lot of weight in convincing board of an objector's sin-

It sounds like a rational ap-

she said. "It shows the

is not experiencing a late of their board."

"Usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

be usefulness of this card," says

is that it provides a record of

duel's opposition to war and

day. Under current Selective

regulations, an individual

called up for active duty will

The Bullet

Established 1927

Printed by and for the MWC Community in the offices of the Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star.

Gary P. Webb, Editor-in-Chief
Laurie Shelor, Managing Editor
Betsy Rohaly, News Editor
Candy Sams, Features Editor
Cynthia Nash, Business Manager.

Editorial

Honor:

Difficult Decisions

The Honor Council and its last three decisions or so have come under quite a bit of fire lately; however, both sides need to be considered. Any system of justice will have a certain amount of inconsistencies and in the opinion of some, errors. This can be blamed on human nature, uncorrectable bias, and environment. Yet one must recognize a genuine effort on the part of councilpeople or other elected officials to do their consistent best in making fair and appropriate judgments.

First, consider the following circumstances involved. A student commits an honor offense, as defined by his/her accuser. A great deal of campus discussion follows, ranging from outraged friends to disgusted observers. The verdict is guilty, no dismissal and the reactions fall into one of the three categories: too harsh, too light and appropriate. To take this opportunity and defend a personal opinion would serve no constructive purpose, it will not be done.

Second and third cases develop and the majority of those familiar with the details are rather confident justice will be dealt to the defendant. Post-trial opinion, however, is not positive. Even the accuser suggested the penalty of guilty, absolute dismissal is entirely too harsh. This feeling was shared by the Honor Council President and other peers of the defendant. The other case was along the same charges, yet received a guilty, no dismissal verdict. Undoubtedly, details, circumstances and other pertinent facts can be brought out to argue one's stand on the outcome, but regardless of personal viewpoint, look, instead, at the situation from an objective point.

The Honor Council was under a great deal of pressure to meet the measured needs of the campus and felt bound to

Laurie Shelor

To the Editor:
As one of the faculty advisors to the Honor Council, I feel compelled to respond to Mr. Scharff's letter of January 22 regarding a recent honor trial. Since he was counsel to a friend of the accused in the trial, it is understandable that he was upset with the Council's verdict and penalty. However, this does not justify his impugning the integrity of the Honor System or the members of the Honor Council.

Mr. Scharff stated that, in his opinion, the accused was innocent of an honor violation. The accuser held the opposite opinion. After hearing the testimony, examining the evidence, and considerable deliberation, the Council rendered a verdict of guilty. I can assure Mr. Scharff that this decision and the resulting penalty were not arrived at lightly.

For the record, it should be made clear that the purpose of the Honor Council is neither to "reprimand" nor to "persecute" anyone. According to the Student Handbook, "The Honor hold to these responsibilities. Many students believed they had been too lenient in the past, and hence, their judgment could have been misguided. On the other side, does anyone have the ability to objectively judge every situation brought before them and come to a decision that will satisfy not only the general consensus but also their consciences, and the duty they undertook as a member of the Honor Council? Human nature is the most logical explanation in answer to this question. It is also relevant to add that in spite of human nature and its effects, one must look at how human nature in a decision affects a defendant's future. This decision is, one hopes, made with a great deal of consideration and objectivity.

If students believe the Honor Council is an inconsistent body of people wreaking havoc on defendants brought before their judgement, perhaps these students should put their energies into a revision of the Honor System. At the very least, students should give more thought when voting for their class representatives. In- dian summer apathy is a common ailment, but its results may be more serious than its victims realize.

This editorial is not a stand-point on either side, as earlier stated, this editor does not feel qualified to make a judgement to that degree. Rather, it is an appeal to those students feeling dissatisfied to weigh the possibilities for improvement open to them and to take advantage of these possibilities. It is also a request to those students with apathetic non-opinions who are just as likely to find themselves before the Honor Council they elected and in need of the assurance that their representatives are fair and objective in their decisions.

Laurie Shelor

Council is a judicial body designed to try specific cases brought to it by any member of the College community regarding possible violations of the Honor Code." If a violation is proved, the Council decides upon one of three penalties: no dismissal, suspension, or absolute dismissal. Mr. Scharff may disagree with the verdict or the penalty assigned in a particular case, but unless he has firm evidence to the contrary, he should not suggest that the Council acted in anything but a fair and impartial way.

Mr. Scharff owes a special apology to the one Council member whose integrity he specifically questioned. Besides the fact that the two cases in question were not at all similar, there is no basis for his spurious charge of possible bias in the case he represented.

If some members of the Council gave the appearance of "flippancy" and if one of the members divulged information about the trial, they deserve to be reprimanded. It is very

Dear Editor,

In response to the letter which appeared last week concerning honor trials et al . . . I would like to contribute some personal observations.

Although I was not present at the honor trial, I find it incredulous that the Honor Council members could be "flip." During that week of exams, my roommate, a member of the Council, attended the two trials at her own academic and emotional expense. She felt it her obligation as the elected representative of the Junior Class to do this service for her fellow students. She, and I'm sure the other members, do not take this responsibility lightly, as the letter implied. After each trial she was exhausted, emotionally drained, and visibly upset. No one takes sadistic pleasure in making difficult decisions, missing studying time, and seeing peers affected adversely by trial results.

Personally, I did not learn of the student's identity until the Bullet was printed. I'm appalled, it seems, the college community to discuss the entire matter. My roommate (and I trust the other members as well) kept this information confidential. The rumors flying are, in fact, a result of the unhappiness created when a student broke the Honor Code, and friends of this student took it upon themselves to discredit the Council. Confidentiality is mandated to the Honor Council members, but I believe if it is to be perpetuated, the other people privileged with this information must recognize and respect its necessity.

In last week's letter to the editor, Hoyt Scharff publicly and unnecessarily revealed information about the specific nature of the offense, and proceedings during the trial. I think the question of "professionalism" should be carefully considered by the accused's lawyer as well.

Honor decisions are made by thorough consideration of the evidence and circumstances involved in the particular offense. Council members are human, and it is precisely this

Dear Editor,

I would like to respond to the comic letter submitted by Mr. David Beale last week. I term it "comic" because so many items in it have little basis in reality and also because its logic is so mangled that I find it hard to believe to be our "hole card" against the Soviets' forward moving armies.)

Although it is difficult to determine the actual point of the letter, after many careful readings it appeared to me that Mr. Beale was stating that:

1) He was dissatisfied with the Administration's handling of the Iranian crisis to date.

2) Student apathy has abetted this handling.

3) The students who used "analytic-analytic" at the rally held here are in great part to blame for that apathy.

4) A naval blockade had been advocated by his group which, if followed through on would have gotten our men released.

5) There is a need to "... wake up those people who cry out for diplomacy and reserve ..." and "... stir 'em up to call for some action somewhere..."

6) This could presumably be accomplished by ringing the MWC chimes at 6:00 a.m. Apparently then, "those people" will finally be moved by a desire for sleep to call for strong action on the Iranian issue.

Though as I mentioned before, it was difficult at times to understand

Item 2. Mr. Beale apparently misses a lack of "forward-moving" to mean that the U.S. doesn't care about the crisis in Iran. This is simply untrue. The students here however, are intelligent enough to know that an immature act such as flag-burning will do nothing to help the hostages in Tehran. They where Mr. Beale's letter was going, I believe these to be his more salient issues. I would like to respond to them by one so as not to follow Mr. Beale's pattern of becoming entangled in the style of one's writing.

human, however, to smile or grimace at some twist in the testimony even during a serious proceeding. I don't know the circumstances under which information on the deliberations may have been released, but I do know from personal conversations with other students that the accused and their friends released considerable information themselves about the trial.

Mr. Scharff states that "seven popularly elected young women, unversed in law, judged and passed sentence on a fellow student." This is precisely what is called for in the Honor Constitution. I am proud to be associated with this group of young women who have given much of their own time and energy to make the Honor System work. They have taken their very difficult job seriously and have represented the student body.

Sincerely,
Roy F. Gratz
Assistant Professor of Chemistry and Geology

BULLET

Letters

Dear Editor,
In response to the letter which appeared last week concerning honor trials et al . . . I would like to contribute some personal observations.

Although I was not present at the honor trial, I find it incredulous that the Honor Council members could be "flip." During that week of exams, my roommate, a member of the Council, attended the two trials at her own academic and emotional expense. She felt it her obligation as the elected representative of the Junior Class to do this service for her fellow students. She, and I'm sure the other members, do not take this responsibility lightly, as the letter implied. After each trial she was exhausted, emotionally drained, and visibly upset. No one takes sadistic pleasure in making difficult decisions, missing studying time, and seeing peers affected adversely by trial results.

In the future, I suggest the students of Mary Washington College voice their concerns during Honor Council elections, and challenge the candidates' understanding of the Honor Code then. Expressing an opinion by either running as an honor representative or voting for a well-qualified candidate, is much more constructive than deriding an entire system because it has not worked for one's friends. Instead of attacking the personal integrity of the Council's members, remind yourself of how the Honor Code works for you.

I attended a state college in Massachusetts before transferring to MWC, and I will attest that having an Honor Code does make a difference. Most students here do not cheat, and hopefully this will permeate their values throughout life. Our exams are often unproctored, and we are allowed the maximum flexibility in selecting what to take them. Maybe I'm naive, but I've yet to lock my door, and nothing has been stolen from my room; in fact, nothing has been taken from me in the library or dining hall either. I credit the Honor System, and the understanding of the students of this college case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

Dear Editor,

I write this in hopes it will assist me. I am presently incarcerated at the Federal Penitentiary in Atlanta, Georgia for conspiring to sell marijuana and would like to respond with some of the ways your campus. If you have a bulletin board I hope you might use this. I am 26, 6 ft. tall, 165 lbs, kept straight blonde hair, blue eyes, and smooth complexion. My hands are trim, jogging, water and skiing, travelling, dancing and tanning people. I am in the business and am from Miami, Florida. I am also a college graduate in a major in business. I will answer any questions you have at any time and on any occasion.

Respectfully yours,

Karen Majewski

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the

case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

Considering I felt that the Trials Held" write-up was very well written, I'm sure you can imagine agitation upon reading Mr. Schaff's letter attacking Honor Council. Naturally Mr. Schaff would be disheartened by his case resulting in the dismissal of his friend. But I was shocked to see his feelings transferred into the personal integrity of the Honor System. It seems that he has directed his feelings toward the Honor Council. For, as we read, there appear two "idealistic" cases of cheating, where both persons are found guilty, yet one is allowed to remain on campus while the other is dismissed. My fears were soon met when I over heard two girls talking:

"Hey, one person got kicked out for cheating and the other one didn't. That isn't fair!"

Attitudes like these imply inconsistency on the part of the Honor Council. However, this isn't the case at all. Since as a reminder, our Honor System at Mary Washington is not single sanction, but provides three-varying degrees of penalty. This allows the Council to take into account the related circumstances affecting the case so they may reach the most lenient verdict for that particular and if need be, the appropriate.

The Bullet

Assistant Editor	Lauren
Sports Editor	Erin
Assistant Sports Editor	Susan
Advertising Manager	Diana A. Wold
Circulation Manager	Jackie Conciatore
Graphics	Pat Thompson and Patricia Patterson
Photography Editors	Staff
Staff	Houston Kempton and Felicia
Cheryl Fetterman, Mark Madigan, Evelyn Reem, Charles Rodriguez, Jones, Janice Johnson, Curry Brown, Meg Bell, Dan Hudson, Shannon and Erin Devine.	Jackie Conciatore, Pam

Olympics, Draft Dominate Week

By PAM BURN

The nation is in an uproar; the problem is there are so many issues to be uprooted about, no one knows what to do.

Most prominent on the minds of young people is the draft. President Carter in his State of the Union address yesterday that he will introduce legislation in Congress next month for a return of the Selective Service System, or "registration for draft."

Precedent in U.S. history, which may now be eligible for the draft, as well as their male counterparts ages 18-26. Carter says he has decided whether he wants to include or not; that decision was announced to Congress Feb-

9.

Actual registration, if approved by Congress, cannot start for several weeks. The legislation will include a $10 million to purchase computers and to train personnel to automate the system.

If registration does begin, eligible adults are required only to register. In case of war, registrations are picked at random and lucky winners get all-expenses-paid trips to wherever the action is.

It is possible return of the draft is looming in our future, it looks like it will be the closest young athletes will get to participating in the games.

It was said in the address that the Soviets do not pull Afghanistan by February 20. House of Representatives then had that decision with a 386-12 Thursday.

Today, the U.S. Olympic Committee (USOC) in turn decided to ask International Olympic Committee to either move, postpone or cancel the games. In recent weeks committees have stressed the possibility of moving the games.

The IOC will accept this decision, but it is certain that a team will be traveling to no matter what happens.

It was stated that the government will revoke athletes' visas if they try to prevent them from situation is unfortunate, not the athletes who worked hard and made many sacrifices for the but also for the businesses in that worked hard and made to make a profit from them. Businesses face tremendous not only in money already invested but also in the profits they have expected. Coca-Cola paid the government a "huge" amount, according to the Washington Post, to be the official soft drink of the games. Levi Strauss made all the for the athletes along with outfit for customers, with the Olympics logo on them.

It is a loss though, according to NBC. The network paid to get the rights and facilties to broadcast the games. Fortunately, a Lloyd's of London insurance policy picks up 90 percent of the loss. However, this does not cover the estimated $150 million in advertising profits they stand to lose.

NBC will also have to spend millions more to fill in the 152 reserved seats for the games. NBC president Fred Silverman was hoping to use the Olympics as a springboard towards number one ratings and previews of the fall shows.

Bush, Carter Gain Victories

Not everyone is a loser right now; Carter won the majority of the Democratic caucuses in the Iowa Caucus last Tuesday. His 50 percent win towered over Senator Edward Kennedy's 31 percent.

George Bush managed a Republican win over Ronald Reagan, 33 percent to 27 percent. Senator Howard Baker followed with 14 percent of the Republican vote, Texan John Connally with 10 percent, Congressman Philip Crane 7 percent, Congressman John Anderson 4 percent and Senator Robert Dole with a last place 3 percent.

Jerry Brown, the Democratic governor of California, was given a kick in the pants by Iowa voters; he received zero percent of the vote. The ambitious governor was absent from office over 70 days last year. That included a 10-day trip to Africa he took with his "good friend," Linda Ronstadt.

Khomeini III

Ayatollah Khomeini was taken to a Tehran hospital last Wednesday for pains in his chest. The 79-year-old religious leader had been resting in the city of Qom since January 12 because of overwork and fatigue.

Khomeini said over a state broadcast Thursday that his health is "not bad," and he urged Iranians to vote in the Presidential Election held Friday.

Out of the candidates in the election, Iran's finance minister, Bani-Sadr, seems to have won by a landslide. He said Saturday that the American hostage situation is a "minor issue," and can be solved easily.

McCartney Gets Ticket to Ride

Paul McCartney's own crisis ended Friday when Japanese officials released him from jail and deported him from the country.

Officials say they did not press charges because McCartney allegedly brought the almost eight ounces of marijuana into the country for private use, and not to sell.

During his nine-day imprisonment, which caused the cancellation of Wings' 11 city concert tour, McCartney was not allowed his guitar, and his guitar was banned from the government-owned radio station.

McCartney is not allowed to reenter the country in the next 12 months, and a Japanese government spokesman said he probably will not be allowed back after that. According to the Post, prosecutors said that McCartney had "been punished socially." Sponsors of the concert tour estimate losses at nearly $400,000.

to deter Soviet aggression, Carter reiterated the U.S. pledge to provide military and economic aid to Pakistan. In what many consider his most politically risky move, Carter announced his decision to resume registration for the military draft. Although it is still uncertain as to whether women will have to register, Carter did say that his "fair" policy would not exclude college students. Finally, Carter urged all U.S. allies and nations of the Persian Gulf to cooperate in the maintenance of the security of this vital and volatile region.

Carter's main domestic goal continues to be reducing inflation by holding real growth in federal spending "close to zero." In view of a recent unexpected expansionary trend in the economy, Carter decided to forgo any tax cuts until the economy moves into a downward trend. Carter's immediate legislative priority is passage of his energy legislation, particularly of the proposed oil tax which would fund his other energy proposals.

Carter, Bush win in Iowa

The Iowa caucuses which offered the first critical tests of the 1980 elections, proved to be the week's most surprising domestic event. President Carter whipped his leading democratic contender, Senator Edward Kennedy, 2-1, winning 97 of the state's 99 counties. Carter not only dominated Kennedy in the rural areas but held substantial margins over him in the cities, Catholic and blue-collar areas—presumed areas of Kennedy strength. Kennedy concedes that to stay in the race he needs to win the next two primaries in Maine and New Hampshire.

Republican underdog George Bush upset frontrunner Ronald Reagan in Iowa's Republican caucuses. Bush's personal organization, his heavy use of direct-mail and his intense personal campaigning contributed to his victory. Following his upset, Regan has decided to campaign harder in person and make joint appearances with other GOP candidates.

Soviets Exile Sakharov

A startling new event which further strains U.S.-Soviet relations occurred when the Soviets stripped Nobel laureate and human rights champion, Andrei Sakharov, of his state honors and sent him into internal exile. Sakharov's recent statements urging the world to force Russia to withdraw its troops from Afghanistan and his support of the Olympic boycott certainly contributed to the Soviet's decision. This move directly challenges President Carter's human rights campaign and his retaliatory measures against the Soviets for invading Afghanistan. It also suppresses Soviet dissidence prior to the summer Olympics to be held in Moscow. Many believe this tougher policy reflects power shifts among the aging leaders in the Communist party.

Big Sister Stankiewicz Helps Others

A little over fifteen months ago Jan Stankiewicz became a Big Sister. Her new sibling is not related by blood, marriage, or adoption. Jerry Owens, Jan's little brother, is part of the Appalachia Big Brother/Big Sister program. The happy match started when Dr. Andrew S. Ryan, executive director of Big Brother, gave a talk on the program. He had applications with him and Jan filled one out. Soon she was called in for an interview. Jan requested a little brother between the ages of seven and ten. She was given a choice of three anonymous boys, one of whom was Jerry. That was in October of 1978 and they've been together ever since.

That match and the fact that Jan is a sociology major led her to present internship. Jan has gone from a volunteer Big Sister to a caseworker. Jan now conducts the interviews and makes the matches. The internship allows Jan to apply her book knowledge to a real-life job. She not only gets credit for working downtown, but she is also gaining experience, which will be of great value when she goes job hunting after graduation this May.

Jan explained, "One thing I would like to do as a caseworker is to get the male population of Mary Washington involved in the program." Jan can be seen on campus tacking up Big Brother posters. Part of her internship involves public relations and recruiting, however at the office she studies files and interviews volunteers and little brothers and little sisters. When interviewing a little brother or sister she must visit their homes. First she talks with the parent and then with the child.

Jan hopes that this social work experience will help her land a job. "I know a lot of social work jobs involve interviewing so I'm hoping this internship will give me an edge over other applicants." Jan is applying for the same job. Jan's internship is very valuable and pretty much a necessity if one hopes to have any success in the job market today. She also adds, "It certainly beats going to lecture classes!"

Of course it is too late to add an internship this semester, but one can have an internship this summer. The sociology department gives internship credit to students who become Big Brother volunteers. Psychology majors could, in all probability, earn extra hours by being a Big Brother. It would be of particular interest to students of infant and child as well as adolescent and adult psychology. One can see how an internship is scholarshipally rewarding, but some don't realize the personal gratification that would result from a Big Brother internship.

The general rule for an internship is that 3-5 hours every week equals one credit per semester. That means for the 15 hours per week Jan spends in her office she receives 3 semester credits.

Stop excusing your life away.

Everyone has an excuse for not seeing their doctor about colorectal cancer. However, every year 52,000 men and women die of colorectal cancer in this country alone. Two out of three of these people might be saved by early detection and treatment. Two out of three.

So what is your excuse? Today you have a new, simple, practical way of providing your doctor with a stool specimen on which he can perform the guaiac test. This can detect signs of colorectal cancer in its early stages before symptoms appear.

While two out of three people can be saved. Ask your doctor about a guaiac test, and stop excusing your life away.

Job Opportunities

Available in Europe

opportunities in Europe this summer. Work this summer in the of Germany, on construction sites, in farms in Germany, and in Denmark, in industries in France and Germany, in hotels in England.

There are these jobs available in Ireland, England, France, Italy, and Holland are open to the governments of countries to American universities coming to Europe the summer.

Twenty years students made across the Atlantic through Service to take part in the activities of the people of these countries. The success of this project has a great deal of enthusiastic interest and support both in America and Europe. Every year, the program expanded to include many students and jobs. Already, students have made application at summer jobs. American-European Student Service (on a non-fee basis) is offering these jobs for Germany, Scandinavia, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, and Spain. The jobs of forestry work, child care (females only), farm work, (limited number available), construction work, and some more qualified jobs requiring specialized training.

Part of this program is to afford student an opportunity to get living contact with the people of Europe. In this way, a effort can be made to learn of the culture of Europe. For his or her work, the student will receive his or her room and board, plus a wage. However, student should keep in mind that they will be working on the European economy and wages will naturally be scaled accordingly.

The working conditions (hours, safety, regulations, legal protection, work permits) will be strictly controlled by the labor ministries of the countries involved.

In most cases, the employers have requested especially for American students. Hence, they are particularly interested in the student and want to make the work as interesting as possible.

They are all informed of the intent of the program, and will help the student all they can in deriving the most from his trip to Europe.

Please write for further information and application forms to: American-European Student Service, Box 70, FL 9493 Mauren, Liechtenstein (Europe).

Announcements

The Sophomore Class will be having an open meeting for the entire class this Thursday, January 31, at 6:00 P.M. in ACL Ballroom. Everyone is urged to attend. Important business will be discussed concerning the Sophomore Class' activities of the semester including 80th Night, 100th Night, and the Keg party sponsored by the Sophomore Class.

The location of the History Departments lecture series "Heros and Villains" has been changed to ACL Ballroom. The lectures will continue to be held on Tuesday nights at 7 p.m.

On Wednesday January 16 a gold initial (SRC) pin was lost somewhere on campus. Substantial reward offered. If you find it, please contact Susan Robertson, x4441.

Poetry

The 1980 Battlefield will be on sale from January 28 until February 8. Sales will be held Monday through Friday in the Arts Center Lee Hall from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. and from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. Cost is $10. Hurry, get your Battlefield now! Only a limited number has been ordered this year. For those of you who missed the 1979 and 1978 Battlefields, they will also be on sale for $11.00 and $10.00. For further information, call Steph at x4500, Terry at x4430, or Kathy at x4415.

Psychic readings, psychometry and past life readings. Beverly E. Newson, (703) 786-7475. Student discount.

20th century got you down? Why not try the Middle Ages? Call Phillip of Ghent, Farspeaker Rune 371-9046 between 6 and 11 p.m.

Attention all students interested in Psychology: There will be a very important Psychology Club meeting on Monday, February 4 at 3:45 p.m. in Chandler Room 6. It will be one of the last formal club meetings of the semester, so it's very important that all members be as well as any new members attend.

Photos that have appeared in the Bulletin can be reproduced (in limited quantities) for interested persons. Costs are 80¢ for a 5x7 print and $1 for an 8x10 print. Contact Houston Kempson, x4442.

Starting this week WMWC will be broadcasting reviews of local restaurants. Tune in and eat out.

The Bulletin is looking for photographers. Glory and fame, flexible hours. Call Houston at x4442.

American Cancer Society
THIS SPOT CONTRIBUTED BY A PUBLIC SERVICE

Blue Tide Downs Saints, 82-73

By JOHN M. COSKI
and PAUL HAWKE

The MWC men's basketball team closed out a four-game homestand last Saturday, defeating the Saints of St. Mary's College, 82-73, in one of their most inspired offensive performances of the season. It was the Blue Tide's second win of the season and highlighted a string of games that point towards a bright second half.

Center Robert Watts and forward Marcus Mickle were the standouts in the win, scoring 15 and 14 points with 11 and 10 rebounds, respectively.

A key to the Tide's improved play has been a sudden dominance on the boards. Out-rebounded by only one by St. Paul's College last Thursday, MWC grabbed 62 to Lynchburg College's 39 in a losing effort on Wednesday, and 41 to St. Mary's 38. Watts, Mickle and forward Barney Reilly have been the rebound leaders.

Reilly has also been MWC's top scorer, hitting in double figures in every contest since the semester break. Tim Money has cooled down somewhat from an astounding first semester, but is maintaining his 13.3 average and nationally-ranked free throw accuracy.

In the St. Mary's win, the MWC attack failed early, the Tide falling 14 points behind. A hot streak in the last seven minutes of the first half carried well into the second, erasing the Saint lead.

A consistently effective left-handed hook shot by Barney Reilly, a three-point play by Marcus Mickle, and a strong inside play by Robert Watts highlighted the rally that brought MWC to a 36-39 deficit at halftime.

The Saints' ever-present center, Tom Maleski, was the game's high scorer and was instrumental in their first half lead. In the second half, Watts was able to control Maleski and stir the partisan crowd with his dominance of the key.

The second half was characterized by a rash of fouls by an undermanned St. Mary's squad and a phenomenal shooting performance by the Blue Tide.

The Tide hit a whopping 42.7% from the floor in the second half and, with a game free throw percentage of 71.7, they were able to keep the visitors at bay after grabbing a 46-45 lead.

St. Mary's field goal percentage for the game was only 38.2 and their scoring opportunities were hurt even more by the MWC rebounding and the shot-blocking of Watts and forward Davis.

For the last five minutes, the Tide maintained its margin with smoothly-run stabs and what Coach Tom Davies termed a "good controlled offense." Eventually, despite the hustling play of sub John Oliver, the lead was cut to four and the clock wound down with painful slowness as fouls marred the final minutes.

The St. Mary's bench was emptied in the last minutes; five players fouled out and the visitors were forced to play the last 30 seconds with only four players. Outmanned, their attack fell apart and the MWC lead swelled to a game-ending 9 points.

The busy week of home games finds the men's team standing at 2-13, but a much improved squad over just a few weeks ago.

The Thursday night loss to St. Paul's College was indicative of the new team confidence. In the 1978-79 season, St. Paul's, a division II team, blew MWC away by 31 points; the margin this year was eight. One Blue Tide veteran commented that at one stage in the game that the MWC offense was as good as he has ever seen it.

The St. Mary's victory avenged a lopsided loss last year and snapped a five-season losing streak to the Saints.

Miers, who scored eight and nine against St. Paul's and Lynchburg, Bill Abba, John Oliver and Jim Markey, flushed out the regular shuffling Blue Tide lineup.

Markey, a recent transfer from Virginia Wesleyan College, is the semester's surprise addition to the team. Markey has started at guard in the last three games and is instrumental in the success of Davies' "controlled offense."

In the four-game homestand, the MWC men have found their composure, confidence, a number of effective court combinations and two victories. Their next home appearance will be on Saturday against North Carolina Wesleyan.

Photo by Houston Kempton

MWC's Robert Watts has his shot blocked by Lynchburg's E.D. Schecterley (51) in last week's loss to the Hornets. Watts was fouled on the play.

MWC Breaks Streak

Tim Money sank two free throws with no time on the clock to give Washington's men's basketball team a 78-77 win over Washington College Saturday, January 19, in Gool Gym. The Blue Tide raked up their first victory since February 1978.

Money, a sophomore guard, fouled as time ran out, and made two pressure-packed free throws to ease. This year's Blue Tide has been a first-half team, leading at the half in several contests only to lose the lead and game in the second half, but the situation was reversed against Washington, with MWC trailing 48-46 at the half. The Tide came back in the second stanza, however, breaking a long victory drought. Robert Watts was the leading scorer for MWC with 22 points. Barney Reilly and Dan Miers also played well for the Tide, garnering 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Classifieds

To Stat Queen #1—when do you ask? Better yet let's pay a visit to victim! HA-HA! Stat Queen #2.

Hey Shoe! A hug is a wonderful thing.

WOMEN PLAY RUGBY!!

SQ1—I never knew you had this talent of writing! Keep it up great! SQ2

Press Stops St. Mary's

Panthers, Jackets Halt Tide

By DEB REID

The Mary Washington women's basketball team, coming off three wins this semester, had their hopes of a fourth thrashed by the Yellow Jackets of Randolph-Macon downed the Tide 73-42 last Tuesday. MWC took an early 4-0 lead, but R-MC tallied the next several points to go ahead and the Yellow Jackets stayed out in the front for the remainder of the game.

The Blue Tide shot 39.2% from the floor while Randy Mac shot 42.6%. Becky Spigle and Cindy Crabill, both of whom are six-footers, led the Jackets with 21 and 18 points respectively. The Tide found only one player in double figures, freshman Kim Stephenson, who tallied for 14 points. Patty Loving rolled in seven while Nancy Clary and Leslie Wallace had six points each.

The size of Randolph-Macon's team seemed to be the deficit of the Tide.

"You usually don't come up against a team that tall who are not that well and who are really quick and good 'ball-handlers,'" commented MWC coach Connie Gallahan. "They caused us a lot of problems at first, but as the game went on our play improved."

Anne Hanky, Jenny Utz, and Nancy Clary were credited with a fine defensive game.

On Thursday the Panthers of Furman College defeated MWC 54-43. Both teams found themselves in early foul trouble. In the first half the Tide combined for 17 personal fouls while the Panthers had 14. The halftime score was a slow 24-20, MWC trailing.

The second half proved to be about the same as the first. Both teams continued to shoot poorly. MWC shot 22% from the floor and 50% from the foul line. The Blue Tide's defense seemed to be the second positive aspect of the game as they caused 32 turnovers.

Freshman guard Jennifer Benner came off the bench to give Mary Washington added talent on the floor. Benner played an excellent defensive game and added 4 points off the offensive board. High scorer and leading rebounder for the Tide was Kim Stephenson, who tallied for 16 points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

"We really need to talk more and get ourselves psych'd up to play. We haven't been playing up to our potential. I don't think we can judge these games by saying we did good or bad, but on how they will affect our future performances," stated co-captain Jenny Utz.

The Tide finally found its fourth win of the semester by defeating the Saints of St. Mary 61-53 last Saturday. The score was close throughout the

Announcements

ATTENTION SENIORS! 100th night is Friday February 1st from 8-12 p.m. in ACL Ballroom. Come celebrate graduation, SENIORS ONLY with lots of kegs, munchies and great music sponsored by the sophomore class.

Park & Shop

THE GENERAL STORE RESTAURANT
2108 College Avenue
FREDERICKSBURG, VIRGINIA 22401
Carry Out 371-4075

Unlimited Soup and Salad Bar
With Beverage
$2.05
Or 25¢
In Pre-1964 Silver

M.W.C.I.D. Required
Monday, Jan. 28-Sunday, Feb. 3

OF HOME
ROSS MUSIC & AUDIO
For all of your Listening Needs and Pleasures

Tide Falls to AU

By JULIE HARRELL

On Monday January 21 the Blue Tide's women swimmers fell short of American University 72-61 in one of the most competitive meets of the season. With only nine meets left before the state tournament in late February, American University proved to be good practice for the Tide with their scholarship swimmers. The Blue Tide's 11 point loss was not disappointing for them, because of their scholarship opponents, but the team is looking and concentrating more for the state tournament rather than dual meets since the tournament counts more in team points.

First place finishers were Lila Snell in the 50 breast and 100 breaststrokes; Leah Burdshaw in both required and optional diving events and Val Parks in the 50 fly. Snell has won the 50 breast for the fourth time and is undefeated in this event.

Second place finishers were the 200 medley relay of Jackie Lane, Sisa Snell, Julie Harrell and Toni Luscavage; Dodie Ryan in the 50 back; Kelley Burns—100 backstroke; Martha Williams in 100 IM; Wendy Prothro in the 50 fly and the 200 freestyle relay team of Wendy Prothro, Jackie Lane, Toni Luscavage and Dodie Ryan.

Third places went to Jeannie McCullough in 50 breast; Dodie Ryan—200 freestyle; Jackie Lane in 100 IM; Toni Luscavage in 50 free; Val Parks in 100 fly; Wendy Prothro in 100 free and Dodie Ryan in 500 freestyle.

The Tide swimmers are rapidly improving their times and technique which will help them in their upcoming home double dual meet Wednesday January 30 against James Madison University and Roanoke College.

Tim Money pumps in two from the corner against the Lynchburg Hornets last week in Goolrick.

Seniors look out! 80th night is closer! The Sophomore class has a secret but guarantees that night is the greatest night of your life!

With the win over St. Mary's Washington boosted its season record to 6-5. The Blue Tide travel to Bridgewater Tuesday and return home on Friday against Randolph-Macon Women's College.

Heroes and Villains

King Arthur Lives

By JOHN M. COSKI
To question about it," commented Professor of History Joseph Vance, drawing the enormous audience crammed into a Combs Hall lecture room last Tuesday night, "Arthur still lives."

The second lecture of the 14 week series on "Heroes And Villains in History," Vance traced the still potent "life" of the legendary Arthur—a life that effectively five centuries after his death.

Vance's assertion that "Arthur is living but the ultimate hero" was born out by an array of examples of ancient historical figures and images that find their origin in the myths of Arthur and the chivalry that are as close to the novel hero or Hollywood hero than an Arthurian legend? Vance asked. Rather satirically, he re-evaluated President John F. Kennedy's identification with Arthur and Camelot with references to "the majestic Jackie" and to Arthur Schlesinger in the role of Merlin.

Much of Vance's presentation was a concise history of the millennium from the establishment of Roman hegemony over England to the Norman invasion of 1066. Somewhere in the middle of that span lived the historical Arthur—if he did, indeed, exist.

Arthur is thought to have been a Roman Briton and lived in southern England or Wales. His legendary status arises from his guerrilla-style resistance against the "barbarian" Saxons who invaded from the north.

Ironically, it was the Normans, another group of "northern barbarians," who carried with them from their French bases the blossoming legends of Arthur. The legend was spanned, according to Vance, by the troubadours of southern France (who, he asserted, also "invented" sex) and matured in Britain.

The "ultimate of Arthur historians" was Sir Thomas Malory who wrote the self-styled last word on Arthur in 1470. Malory's The Death of Arthur co-incided with the invention of the printing press, enabling Arthur to find its way into popular culture in 1485.

Arthur's proportions grew even more when England's King Henry VII claimed the legend as his ancestor and named his heir-apparent Arthur II. Arthur II died before reaching the throne, but it was clear that the original Arthur had now grown to become a mythical king as well as a mythical hero.

The legend of Arthur, Vance said, "epitomized the man on horseback of the feudal tradition" which Vance had covered in his review of Medieval history.

This feudal image is characterized by chivalry and gallant quest and has been resurrected throughout history in such epics as the short-lived Southern Confederacy. Additionally, the image of Arthur has been surrounded with the trappings of chivalry: a band of loyal followers, a symbol of "rough equality" in the Round Table, and a meeting place in Camelot.

Indeed, concluded Vance, "nothing has so influenced so much the mores of today as the Arthurian image" or similar modifications of it.

Dr. Vance observed that after Dean Mary Ann Burns classified Julius Caesar as a villain in the first "introduction" of the lecture series, the score was Villains 1, Heroes 0. With Dr. Vance's discourse on the evolution of the Arthurian heroic image, the score must now be considered tied.

Photo by Houston Kempton

An unidentified MWC student helps out the Blue Tide cheerleaders in Saturday night's home game against St. Mary's.

Virginia State Police Say Traffic Deaths Fewer in 1979

Traffic Deaths Fewer in 1979

HMOND—Although final statistics will not be available until February, the Department of State Police reported that preliminary figures indicate fewer persons lost lives on Virginia's highways in 1979 than in any year since 1963.

Tentative 1979 total of highway fatalities is 1,005, 75 fewer than 1978 were killed. A Department spokesman stated that the 1979 figure would be expected to be as great as would have been anticipated that 1979 will set an all-time record low in Virginia as far as the number of the 100 million miles concerned.

Colonel Slane further stated, "State Police participation in Operation C.A.R.E. and the Department's continuing Selective Enforcement Program

gram were also significant contributions to the decline in 1979 highway deaths." Operation C.A.R.E.—a synonym for Combined Accident Reduction Effort—is a national program concentrated on the major holiday periods of Memorial Day, July 4 and Labor Day. The Selective Enforcement Program, funded by a Federal grant made available through the Department of Transportation Safety, is a 12-month program involving increased patrols and police visibility on certain sections of highways according to traffic volume and accident frequency.

In addition to these contributing factors to the reduction in fatalities, State Police emphasize the important contributions made by other State, local and private agencies—including the news media—in providing vital safety information to motorists.

"Credit for the saving of lives on the State's highways must be widely shared," said Colonel Slane. "Undoubtedly, an accomplishment such as this would not be possible without the cooperative effort of every motorist and every agency."

Safety

Committee Meets

Formed with the purpose of improving safety and student awareness of safety, the Campus Safety Committee was formed last December.

The Committee consists of Dean Suzanne Gordon, Assistant Dean George Edwards, Chief Pete Bishop, Dr. Richard Palmieri, Assistant Dean Nona Wegner, students Diana Wolokiewicz, Ford Hart, Curry Brown, Betsy Rohaly and chairperson Clark Little.

Meeting every week, the Committee discusses potential threats to security and personal safety that exist on campus. The initial work has consisted of determining priorities, and looking into how other schools deal with safety problems. As their work progresses, the Committee hopes to be able to distribute literature, sponsor television and radio programs, and to hold lectures and/or panel discussions similar to that presented last semester by FARIS, The Fredericksburg Area Rape Information Service.

All are welcome to join the Committee and contribute their ideas and suggestions. Please contact Clark Little, x4459.

Classifieds

The Mongoose is on the loose again

Sex and Drugs and Rock-n-roll

My friend had lost her dragons

Once upon a time in a reality lapse

there was a menage a trois

Watch out Morris, Dino's on her way up

The happiness in life lies in dispensing with formalities. Visit Marshall.

Billion-dollar club

For the first time last year, South Korea, Italy, and the United Kingdom bought over $1 billion worth of U.S. farm products. They join Japan, The Netherlands, the Soviet Union, Canada and West Germany—already billion-dollar importers from America.

"Not too long ago I was speechless. Now I'm teaching Ben how to talk."

Cancer of the lungs is one of the most treatable cancers. If discovered in time, 9 out of 10 patients are cured. These two-thirds learn to speak again, thanks to a rehabilitation program of the A.C.S. Early detection and prompt treatment can save your life and your voice.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Thunderbird MOTOR INN

M.W.C. students and faculty: when your friends and family are in town, stop by and visit us. We'll give you a $3.00 discount off of our regular double occupancy rate.

offer good thru May, 1980

ROUTE 3 & INTERSTATE 95
FREDERICKSBURG, VIRGINIA 22401
PHONE (703) 371-5050

CAREERS IN BUSINESS

College of Business Administration and Economics
University of South Carolina

Accounting	A.A.C.S.B. Accredited
Economics	Nationally Renown Faculty
Finance/Insurance	Modern Facilities
Health Care Administration	Excellent Placement
MBA	Financial Aid
International Business (MIBS)	Reduced Tuition
Management Science
Marketing
Real Estate

To apply, contact Dr. Kirk Wood, Assistant Director of Graduate Studies, College of Business, University of South Carolina, Columbia, S.C. 29208 (phone 803/777-2306).

The University of South Carolina offers equal opportunity in its employment, admissions and educational activities in accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503, 504, of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and other State and Federal non-discrimination laws.

(This ad paid for by the Business Partnership Foundation of the College of Business of the University of South Carolina.)

Pizza Hut

WEEKLY SPECIALS!

Comin' in for good.

TACO PIZZA

$2 OFF New Taco Pizza.

One Coupon Per Family Wednesday, Jan. 30, only... 5:30 until 8:30 Only

Pizza Hut

Luncheon Special

11:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. only

Steak Sandwich ..... Reg. 2.39
Meatball Sandwich ..... Reg. 1.99

TUESDAY NIGHT BUFFET

Each Tuesday night 5:30 until 8:30 p.m. All the Salad, Pizza, Spaghetti, Caviatini, and Garlic Bread you can eat for * CHILDREN UNDER 8 YEARS OLD...

MONDAY & TUESDAY ONLY

MONDAY NIGHT BUFFET

$1.19 Only

2 LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU

Phone Either Location For Carry Out

JEFFERSON DAVIS HWY. FOUR MILE FORK
Next to Mary Washington College 1224 Poholan Street 5301 Jefferson Davis Hwy.
PHONE 371-1111

FREE CONFERENCE AND MEETING ROOM AVAILABLE
CALL FOR DETAILS 371-1111

Pizza Hut

WEEKLY SPECIALS!

Comin' in for good.

TACO PIZZA

$2 OFF New Taco Pizza.

One Coupon Per Family Wednesday, Jan. 30, only... 5:30 until 8:30 Only

Pizza Hut

Luncheon Special

11:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. only

Steak Sandwich ..... Reg. 2.39
Meatball Sandwich ..... Reg. 1.99

TUESDAY NIGHT BUFFET

Each Tuesday night 5:30 until 8:30 p.m. All the Salad, Pizza, Spaghetti, Caviatini, and Garlic Bread you can eat for * CHILDREN UNDER 8 YEARS OLD...

MONDAY & TUESDAY ONLY

MONDAY NIGHT BUFFET

$1.19 Only

2 LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU

Phone Either Location For Carry Out

JEFFERSON DAVIS HWY. FOUR MILE FORK
Next to Mary Washington College 1224 Poholan Street 5301 Jefferson Davis Hwy.
PHONE 371-1111

FREE CONFERENCE AND MEETING ROOM AVAILABLE
CALL FOR DETAILS 371-1111

Robinson Announces Plans

FREDERICKSBURG—Congressman J. Kenneth Robinson said here today that the bill to expand what he called a "deceptive and misnamed" windfall profits tax on domestic crude oil "is being viewed as a bonanza by proponents of a wide variety of federal programs having nothing to do with national energy problems."

"There seems to be more talk among proponents of this misguided tax scheme about how much new revenue it would generate for the federal bureaucracy and its clients than how it would help get the United States out from under the OPEC thumb," Robinson said.

He noted that "the only thing of substance which has been agreed on so far by the House-Senate conferees on the bill is that $227 billion in revenue by 1980 would seem to be an attractive figure."

The 7th District Representative, who voted against the windfall profits tax bill last year when it passed the House, said:

"It would tax oil at the wellhead—not profits in the tills of the big oil companies. This is just another tax bill that would be paid by the consumer of petroleum products."

"Any piece of energy legislation—tax-related or otherwise—should be justified on a basis of whether or not its passage would produce substantially more domestic energy than if it were not passed, and the windfall profits tax bill fails that test miserably."

Robinson made the comments during an informal reception (Sheraton Motor Inn) at which he also announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for reelection to Congress.

Violin Competition at Kennedy Center

20th century music by Americans will be discovered and appreciated, and that more works from this body of music will win places in the standard repertoire. The competitions are administered by the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. The 1978 competition was for pianists; the 1979 competition was for singers; the 1980 competition is for violinists. It is expected that this three-year cycle will be repeated beginning in 1981.

PRIZES AND RULES:

FIRST PRIZE—Cash Award: $10,000 for one year; possible $5,000 award for second year; Management: U.S. concert tour, recitals;

Recordings: Limited recording contract

SECOND PRIZE—Cash Award:

$5,000

THIRD PRIZE—Cash Award:

$3,000

SEMI-FINALISTS PRIZES—Cash Awards: The semi-finalists who do not qualify for the finals will receive cash awards of $1,500.

Who Can Apply? Violinists of both sexes, of any age and nationality are eligible.

Application Deadline: Feb. 1, 1980. (Further details in app brochure)

CONTACT: Clytie Salisburg 254-6838; Leo Sullivan or Gre

Competition Schedule: Stages of competition will be preliminary auditions, semi-final rounds. Preliminary will be held regionally in the States and abroad in June 1980. Final and final rounds will be September 1980 in Washington, D.C. From 8 to 12 semi-finalists.

Announcement

Erin Devine was appointed temporary treasurer of the Sophomore class last week by the class council.

Devine had run for vice-president last spring during elections, her and five others, who were elected to offices, eligible for a position in case of a tie. Nancy Brannigan, the secretary-treasurer, transferred to Washington, D.C. was selected by handbook poll in for the remaining two months.

Artists Plan Workshop in Rome

THE ARTIST'S INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOPS, INC., a Richmond-based non-profit, tax-exempt educational organization, is now accepting registrations for its 1980 summer painting workshop in Rome Italy, departing June 26 and returning July 12.

The workshop is offered for up to three graduate or undergraduate college credits, and may be used to maintain teacher certification. It may also be taken on a non-credit basis. Designed to give artists of all levels, from beginners to advanced, the highest quality of art instruction, the workshop will focus on process and technique, and on developing a sizeable body of sketches so that the student can continue to work from them after returning home.

In addition to painting on location in and near Rome, the workshop will feature demonstrations, critiques, slide talks, and visits to major museums, including the Vatican Museums (with the Sistine Chapel) and the Museum of Rome. Students will also have the opportunity to visit other points of interest in the area. Highlights include a field trip to Tivoli, painting at the Emperor Hadrian's vast ruined villa; painting in Ostia Antica, in the Forum, and at the Tiber Island, among other places, and a specially arranged visit to the Institute where Italy's art treasures are taken for restoration.

Virginia E. Hench, a professional artist with a masters degree in fine arts will instruct the class. Ms. Hench, who was artist-in-residence at the Worcester Academy from 1974-76, has taught art for Clark University, the School of the Worcester Art Museum, and the continuing education programs of Virginia Commonwealth University and Virginia State. Her work has been exhibited in such museums as the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, the Worcester Art Museum and elsewhere in the US and Europe.

Participants must be 18 or older, and may be accompanied by a non-painting spouse. The Artists' International Workshops, Inc., does not discriminate on the basis of religion, race, sex, or national origin. For further information write to the Artists' International Workshops Inc. at PO Box 8315, Richmond, Virginia 23226, or call (evenings) (804) 333-5074, or (703) 524-0219.

Applications are now being accepted for the 1980 John F. Kennedy Center-Rockefeller Foundation International Competitions for Excellence in the Performance of American Music. February 15 is the deadline for applications in this year's competition which is for violinists. Those interested in obtaining applications or details about the competition should contact the following:

Kennedy Center-Rockefeller Foundation, International Competitions, John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, D.C. 20566

Details on the purpose of the competition, prizes, and rules follow.

PURPOSE: The Kennedy Center-Rockefeller Foundation International Competitions for Excellence in the Performance of American Music are intended to stimulate a greater interest on the part of performers, teachers, and students in the large body of recital music written by American composers since 1900. It is hoped that by identifying and calling attention to skilled performers of this literature, through competitive awards more of the rich heritage of 20th century music by Americans will be discovered and appreciated, and that more works from this body of music will win places in the standard repertoire. The competitions are administered by the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. The 1978 competition was for pianists; the 1979 competition was for singers; the 1980 competition is for violinists. It is expected that this three-year cycle will be repeated beginning in 1981.

PRIZES AND RULES:

FIRST PRIZE—Cash Award: $10,000 for one year; possible $5,000 award for second year; Management: U.S. concert tour, recitals;

Recordings: Limited recording contract

SECOND PRIZE—Cash Award:

$5,000

THIRD PRIZE—Cash Award:

$3,000

SEMI-FINALISTS PRIZES—Cash Awards: The semi-finalists who do not qualify for the finals will receive cash awards of $1,500.

Who Can Apply? Violinists of both sexes, of any age and nationality are eligible.

Decade Week Ends

By JACKIE CONCIATORE

Saturday's keg party brought an end to MWC's dynamic celebration of the American twentieth century, better known as Decade Week. It was a week filled with reminiscences of the forties, fifties, sixties, and seventies. (The teens, twenties, and thirties were disregarded by MWC; everyone knows that life begins after forty) lebration keg party brought the never-to-be-forgotten week.

Supposedly during the week members of the study dressed in clothing representing each decade. (I missed them to am told that many "just could sing" joining in the "outrageous".)

When asked for their opinion Decade Week, students' replies reportedly readied in mind it would never end" to "til 1990."

Of course, there were a few didn't realize Decade Week had ended, but then, there's a few in the crowd. S.A. President Steve gan did admit that there was trouble in publicizing Decade Week but you all know the grapevine campus—it wasn't long before one knew about Decade Week you?

Classifieds

MISUNDERSTANDINGS have a way with friends—destruction

To the summer of '81. Westward Ho!

That's the way of the world.

He is married

The First and Last Annual Awards Ceremony
Framar Class of 1980

1. Bremby—"Most Voluptuous"
2. Joanne—"Miss Congeniality 1980"
3. Incredible Hauck—"Best in Bed"
4. Linda J. and Gail—"Most Sarcastic"
5. Anne—"The Girl Most Likely"
6. Baby Huey—"Most Popular"
7. Pyro Peake—"Most Likely to Destroy First Home"
8. Dawn—"Most Likely to Contract V.D."
9. Linda H.—"Best Mantle Diver"

It's "dead bug" time of the year again. Hey Jellybean—Florida here we come!

Equal rights for coffee tables ... Give that man a sit!

Hi Charli, Welcome to Bushnell.

Where'd everybody go!!

Good luck to all the courageous people trying out for the lacrosse team. Just remember: there is life after practice!!

Take your shot when you have it. You may not have another opportunity.

Let me live my own life, OK?

AJ

Tex

Tom

Barney Rubble

MB

Hey Cur! Thanks for the harmonica, don't you love those stand up positions? Bounce again!

J.C.—You're not just any J.B.

Steve—I love you

Pete, I still love you

All of my love, all of my kisses, you don't know what you've been missin'

Di—when's the revolution??

So, when's the wedding?

Palmieri, paybacks are a bitch

"Not too long ago I was speechless. Now I'm teaching Ben how to talk."

Donald Stevenson Benjamin Evans

Don Stevenson had cancer of the larynx (voice box). He's now cured and talking again. And helping other people who had the same cancer learn how to talk again.

Cancer of the larynx is one of the most treatable cancers. If discovered in time, 9 out of 10 patients are curable. Of these, two-thirds learn to speak again, thanks to a rehabilitation program of the A.C.S. Early detection and prompt treatment can save your life and your voice.

MOVIES
Fredericksburg
BARGAIN MATINEES	ALL SEATS $1.50
2 1/2 HOUR	3:30 & 2:45
MONDAY	SAT. & SUN.
INTERMISSION
VICTORIA THEATRE	Evans: 7:30 & 9:15
1213 CAROLYN ST.
371-1261
"In Search of Historical Jesus" (G)
GREENBRIER	Eves. 9:30 & 10:10
7:30-9:15
"Guyana Cult of the Damned" (R)
Starts Friday	"The Rose" (R)
GREENBRIER	Eves. 7:30 & 10:00
7:30-9:15
"Apocalypse Now" (R)
Final Week
VIRGINIANS CINEMAS	Eves. 7:30 & 9:15
LAURELITE BLDG. 899-1240
"Electric Horseman" (PG)
Starts Friday	"Kramer vs. Kramer" (PG)
VIRGINIANS CINEMAS	Eves. 7:45 & 9:30
LAURELITE BLDG. 899-1240
Steve Martin	"The Jerk" (R)
24 Hour Movie Information	373-2946

Pizza Inn

Inner Piece is our Gourmet Pizza.

Pure happiness and contentment. You'll know you've got it when you taste that first piece of our Gourmet Pizza. In fact, you'll find a whole lot more of your favorite toppings and cheese on every piece. At Pizza Inn, that's what we call Inner Piece!

Find Inner Piece at Pizza Inn.

PIZZA INN OF FREDERICKSBURG
2103 Jefferson Davis Hwy. on the Bypass
"We're in the business of putting you out!"

"Now With Direct Delivery to the College."

The American Cancer Society thanks you.

Your employees thank you.

Their families thank you.

You've become a life saver. Literally. For installing our Employee Education Program. For letting us supply free films, exhibits, speakers, pamphlets, posters, and articles for your company publications. For accepting our help in arranging "action" programs for your employees... for detection of colorectal cancer, instructions in breast cancer examination, for detection of cervical cancer via the Pap test. For simply understanding that if cancer is detected in its early stages, chances for cure are greatly increased. Thank you.

Hundreds of companies now have an American Cancer Society Employee Education Program. If yours isn't one of them, call us.

American Cancer Society
2,000,000 people fighting cancer.